

earth and seas are passed a way and the old rolling skies.
 new Je - rus - a - lem comes down a - dorned with shin - ing grace.

earth and seas are passed a way and the old rolling skies.
 new Je - rus - a - lem comes down a - dorned with shin - ing grace.

earth and seas are passed a way and the old rolling skies.
 new Je - rus - a - lem comes down a - dorned with shin - ing grace.

earth and seas are passed a way and the old rolling skies.
 new Je - rus - a - lem comes down a - dorned with shin - ing grace.

v3. How long, how long, Dear Saviour Oh how long Shall this bright hour delay?
 Fly swift around ye wheels of time
 And bring the promised day.

v4. His own soft hands shall wipe the tears away
 From every weeping eye.
 And pains and groans and griefs and fears and death itself shall die.